Answer all questions in the exam booklet, 1 question per page side. Fill out the front page of the booklet completely. Return this sheet with your exam booklet. If you do all these things, you will earn 1 bonus mark (no part marks). For each of the 9 questions below, you will receive 1 mark for identifying where the question fits in the context of our class discussion, 1 mark for answering the question and 1 mark for a reasoned personal value judgment about the concept. I say use 1 page side per question, but DO NOT fill it completely: 1 – 2 sentences per mark (for a total of 3 – 6 sentences per question). Lastly, I will not answer questions about any of these questions during the exam.

3 marks x 9 = 27 total.

1. Why is the year of your eventual convocation considered personal information?
2. What is the cost of bacn?
3. Are all people vulnerable on the internet?
4. Is there a danger in clicking “Accept” in response to a EULA?
5. What does it mean (practically) if we revoke our permission to have something on the internet?
6. What is the current version of online activism?
7. What is a weak input filter?
8. If you can get it for free, is there any reason to pay for it?
9. If one must be at least 14 years of age to get on facebook, why do so many students in elementary school have facebook accounts?
